

YES WE MUST COALITION

COLLEGE SUCCESS FOR ALL

STUDENT EXCHANGE PROGRAM

The Yes We Must Coalition (yeswemustcoalition.org), is a group of more than 35 small, private, non-profit colleges and universities that serve primarily low-income, first generation students. The goals of the YWM Coalition are to advocate for the institutions and students in this sector of higher education and to share resources and best practices in order to enrich YWM students' learning experiences and increase graduation rates.

Enriches YWM students' learning experiences

The YWM Student Exchange Program is specifically designed to expose students from member schools to new academic and personal experiences and environments through summer and/or semester exchanges. Many students attend YWM schools that are located close to their home communities and have rarely if ever been able to travel far from these communities. The YWM Exchange Program provides students with the opportunity to expand their horizons by spending time at a school similar to their own in terms of size and student body but located in a variety of environments from the foothills of the Blue Ridge Mountains to the urban centers of Los Angeles and Chicago.

Offers hands-on field work and collaboration with other students

For additional general information regarding the YWM Student Exchange Program, including application procedures, contact the advisor of study away opportunities at your home institution, your academic advisor, or Nia Chester, YWM Program Manager at: niachester@yeswemustcoalition.org.

Provides students with opportunities to expand their horizons

Students participating in the YWM Exchange Program are closely supported and supervised by student, staff and faculty mentors at the host institution as well as at their home institution. Their course of study may correspond to areas they have already begun to explore, including general education courses, or may introduce them to new subjects they would like to explore. Many of the exchange opportunities involve hands-on field work and collaboration with other students.

SAMPLE PARTICIPATING INSTITUTIONS

HERITAGE UNIVERSITY, WASHINGTON

Heritage University is a small accredited, private institution located in Toppenish, Washington, offering a wide array of academic programs and degrees. Heritage University, uniquely positioned in the middle of the Yakama Indian Reservation as well as in the midst of a large agricultural region that attracts a significant migrant worker population, is designated as both a Hispanic-Serving Institution and a Native American Serving Non-Tribal Institution. The high deserts of Central Washington provide Heritage University with a diverse and complex setting in which students are able to study critically important environmental issues in one of the richest and most productive agricultural areas in the United States. Central to the work of the researchers and students at Heritage is the challenge of maintaining a sustainable agricultural industry while preserving Native traditions that are inexorably linked to an environment in which access to natural resources is diminishing. ### KEUKA COLLEGE, NEW YORK

Keuka College sits on the shores of beautiful Keuka Lake, the gem of the eleven Finger Lakes in upstate New York. A rural, small, and comprehensive liberal arts-based school, Keuka College is known for its emphasis on experiential education including its signature Field Period, a substantive month-long internship program completed by every student each of their four years. Field Periods provide students with place-based opportunities to integrate classroom theory with real-world practice, increase their skills, expand their network, and strengthen their classroom dedication by "living their major" during January or summer Field Period times. Keuka College's new Digital Learning initiative (DL@KC) is designed to create digital thinkers who "understand how digital tools work, both their limitations and their possibilities, in order to enhance problem-solving and creativity." These signature programs augment the 33 different liberal arts and professional programs offered at Keuka College. We are particularly interested in student exchanges with other YWM Institutions in the areas of biology, environmental sustainability, social justice, political science and history.
